Britton has spent her entire career focused on family law. She has extensive experience in high conflict custody cases and complex financial matters in divorce proceeding. Britton's goal is to help clients understand the divorce process as they navigate new transitions that are often highly emotionally charged, while simultaneously advocating on their behalf, safeguarding their financial interests and protecting their custodial rights. She prides herself on her ability to provide measured advice, helping clients attain both short term and long term goals throughout the process. Britton works diligently with clients to resolve disputes outside of the courtroom, but is equally comfortable in trial.

Britton is certified in mediation and collaborative law, and also as a court-appointed attorney for minor children. In her spare time, she loves to spend time with family and experiment with interior design.
